Battling the tempter this Lent

*At that time Jesus was led by the Spirit into the desert to be tempted by the devil. He fasted for forty days and forty nights, and afterwards he was hungry. The tempter approached and said to him, "If you are the Son of God, command that these stones become loaves of bread." Matthew 4:1-3

In His great humility and compassion for us, Jesus, the Incarnate Son of God, allowed Himself to endure something that we sinful human beings encounter every day—temptation. God’s glorious plan from the beginning included the creation of both humans and pure spirits—angels—to form one glorious Kingdom of God. Original Sin, the fall of the angels, and our struggle against temptation were not part of God’s original intention, but they became realities due to the misuse of free will, both by angels and by humans. Free will was necessary for both angels and humans to love God freely, which led to a third of the angels and many humans turning away from Him.

Theologians such as Saint Thomas Aquinas and Saint Augustine offer profound insights into God’s original plan for His Kingdom. In that plan, angels were believed to have been tasked with assisting humans in their journey toward perfection through enlightenment and contemplation. Some choirs of angels were tasked with the governance of the cosmos, guiding the physical world in harmony with God’s will. Tragically, the fall of a third of the angels, along with the sin of our first parents, Adam and Eve, has resulted in a world filled with struggle and sin. The fallen angels—now demons—use their natural gifts to deceive, confuse, and tempt. Those who were once responsible for guiding the cosmos now seek to sow chaos, contributing to the existence of natural disasters, disease, and death. While Catholic angelology is speculative, based on a limited amount of biblical revelation, it is important to recognize the role of angels and demons as we enter this sacred season of Lent.

Today’s Gospel focuses on the activity of the most powerful fallen angel—satan, originally named Lucifer, meaning “Light-Bearer.” Tradition holds that he was among the highest of the angels, possibly a Seraphim. According to Saint Thomas Aquinas, Lucifer’s fall resulted from pride: He desired to be a god unto himself, to create and govern according to his own will, refusing to serve God. This cosmic reality, of which both Jesus and satan were fully aware, sets the stage for and adds profound significance to their encounter in the desert.

In this dramatic confrontation, Jesus, by allowing Himself to be tempted, begins the ultimate defeat of satan, a victory that will culminate in Jesus’ Passion, Death, and Resurrection. This is the only recorded instance in which Jesus permits satan to tempt Him directly. While satan remained active throughout Jesus’ ministry, seeking to disrupt His mission, this moment in the desert addresses temptation specifically. By rejecting each temptation, Jesus not only demonstrates how to overcome the devil but also empowers humanity with the grace needed to resist temptation through His triumph on the Cross.

As we enter into the first full week of Lent, reflect today on the temptations you face in your own life. Though satan is powerful and highly intelligent, he is no match for the grace of God. By uniting ourselves to Christ, we are strengthened to resist all that satan and his demons throw at us. Victory over temptation is not achieved by our own strength but through Christ’s grace, which He freely offers to all who turn to Him.

My victorious Lord, You faced satan with courage, the once-beautiful angel who fell from grace through pride and envy. Now he seeks to destroy those whom You love. Give me Your strength and courage this Lent as I confront my own temptations, so that united with You, I may share in Your victory. Jesus, I trust in You.

PLEASE PRAY FOR PRIESTS

We thank you, God our Father, for those who have responded to your call to priestly ministry. Accept this prayer we offer on their behalf; Fill your priests with the sure knowledge of your love. Open their hearts to the power and consolation of the Holy Spirit. Lead them to new depths of union with your Son. Increase in them profound faith in the Sacraments they celebrate as they nourish, strengthen and heal us.

Lord Jesus Christ, grant that these, your priests, may inspire us to strive for holiness by the power of their example, as men of prayer who ponder your word and follow your will.

O Mary, Mother of Christ and our mother, guard with your maternal care these chosen ones, so dear to the Heart of your Son. Intercede for our priests that, offering the Sacrifice of your Son, they may be conformed more each day to the image of your Son, our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ.

Amen.

Vocation Prayer

O God, we earnestly ask You to bless this diocese with many priests, brothers, and sisters who will love You with their whole strength and gladly spend their entire lives to serve Your Church and to make You known and loved. Bless our families, bless our children, choose from our homes those needed for Your work.

Mary, Queen of the Clergy, pray for us, pray for our priests, religious, and deacons. Obtain for us many more. Amen.

On the first Sunday of Lent, we are reminded how easy it is to succumb to temptation. We are faced with it every day and it seems magnified during Lent. Today, we hear how Adam and Eve gave in to temptation while Jesus resisted it. Jesus found strength in the word of God, which he used effectively to outduel the devil in the desert. Let us listen now to God's powerful word, aware that Jesus' use of it to resist temptation enables us to share in his righteousness.

Question of the Week:

How do I resist temptation? Can I remember to look ahead to the long-term consequences before I choose what to do?

February 22: First Sunday of Lent

Worship

Readings: Gen 2:7-9; 3:1-7; Rom 5:12-19 or 5:12, 17-19; Matt 4:1-11

Scripture: "The Lord, your God, shall you worship / and him alone shall you serve."
(Matt 4:10; Deut 6:13)

Reflection: The origin of the word "worship" is rooted in the concept of worthiness. Where do I place worth? What is worthy of my life? What do I reverence with my time, my attention, my skill? Where I find worth will determine where I go in life—where I spend my time, devote my energy, and develop my gifts. Our first parents in the Garden of Eden were assured of God's love for them, but they were tempted to think that wasn't enough. We, too, are sometimes tempted to think that God's love is not enough to sustain our lives.

When love is not enough, we look to other things to worship. We may look to the acquisition of money and material things to sustain our lives. But then we need more money and more things to gratify us. Acquisition becomes a compulsion. We are no longer stewards in the garden, but addicts.

When love is not enough, we may turn to achievement or power to satisfy us. Achievements are then no longer about mastering ourselves or finding worthy goals. Achievement, Position, and power become all about control. We drag others down to elevate ourselves. We seek titles to feel superior.

When love is not enough, we may seek the attention of others to validate ourselves. Instead of seeking to be known, understood, or accepted, we seek attention to gain others' approval. Attention, reputation, and honor become exercises in fleeting self-importance.

Acquisition, achievement, control, approval, honor—none of these things have the power to save us. On the cross Jesus was stripped of all of it. He even felt abandoned. And yet he worshipped. He found his worth in the love of God. He began a new story in a new garden, the garden of the empty tomb, and became the source of salvation for us all.

Meditation: How do I express what is of most worth to me?

Have I found worthy life goals? How am I serving God's love, sharing my gifts, and helping my neighbor?

Prayer: Lord, open my mind and heart to see that you are worthy to receive all glory, reverence, and worship. May this awareness free me to live more fully in your presence.
