Evangelizing All Nations

What a monumental task the Apostles were given! These are Jesus' parting words as He stands on the Mount of the Ascension, the final words recorded in Matthew's Gospel. They are powerful words by which Jesus entrusts extraordinary responsibility to eleven of His closest companions. Their mission was not merely to gain new followers but to proclaim the Gospel to every nation. Additionally, they were to baptize all nations and teach them everything Jesus had commanded.

This incredible task would have seemed daunting, if not impossible. Yet it is grounded in divine authority: "All power in heaven and on earth has been given to me. Go, therefore..." These are not mere words of encouragement but a divine command, rooted in the authority entrusted to Jesus by the Father. With this declaration, Jesus equips the Apostles with the grace to fulfill their mission, knowing they act under His authority.

The Ascension marks a fundamental transition in salvation history. Before the Incarnation, God established covenants with His people and sent prophets to call them to fidelity and prepare them for the coming of the Messiah. With Jesus' Incarnation, a new era of salvation history began. Through His Passion and Resurrection, Jesus opened the floodgates of grace and inaugurated the final phase of God's eternal plan. This phase continues today and will only reach its fulfillment when Christ returns in glory to judge the living and the dead and establish the new Heaven and new Earth.

Because we live in this final phase of salvation history, Jesus' words to His Apostles also apply to us. We are not only among the "all nations" called to be disciples, but we also share in the Apostles' mission to evangelize the world. While the Apostles, as the first bishops, had a unique role, every baptized person participates in Christ's mission through the priestly, prophetic, and kingly offices conferred at baptism.

The recently canonized Saint John Henry Newman beautifully illustrates this shared mission in a prayer he wrote: "God has created me to do Him some definite service. He has committed some work to me which He has not committed to another. I have my mission...I am a link in a chain, a bond of connection between persons...." Each of us has a unique role to play, and we can be certain that God has given us some definite service to act as a link in a chain and a bond of connection between God and others.

Newman continues: "If I am in sickness, my sickness may serve Him, in perplexity, my perplexity may serve Him. If I am in sorrow, my sorrow may serve Him." This reminds us that Jesus, the all-powerful God who holds "all power in heaven and on earth," can use every aspect of our lives for His glory and mission—if we let Him.

Reflect today on two truths. First, consider your place among the "all nations" called to become disciples. Second, reflect on your duty as a disciple to share in Christ's mission to evangelize the world. As we celebrate our Lord's Ascension, hear His commission spoken to you. Embrace the privilege and responsibility of His command, allowing His authority and presence to guide your life and your mission.

Lord of all power in Heaven and Earth, You have called all people to Yourself. I accept that call and open myself to Your gift of eternal salvation. With my "Yes" to You, I also accept the responsibility to share in Your mission of evangelization.

Please reveal Your will to me and empower me to fulfill my duty so that all nations will hear Your saving Word. Jesus, I trust in You.

PLEASE PRAY FOR PRIESTS

We thank you, God our Father, for those who have responded to your call to priestly ministry. Accept this prayer we offer on their behalf; Fill your priests with the sure knowledge of your love. Open their hearts to the power and consolation of the Holy Spirit. Lead them to new depths of union with your Son. Increase in them profound faith in the Sacraments they celebrate as they nourish, strengthen and heal us.

Lord Jesus Christ, grant that these, your priests, may inspire us to strive for holiness by the power of their example, as men of prayer who ponder your word and follow your will.

O Mary, Mother of Christ and our mother, guard with your maternal care these chosen ones, so dear to the Heart of your Son. Intercede for our priests that, offering the Sacrifice of your Son, they may be conformed more each day to the image of your Son, our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ.

Amen.

Vocation Prayer

O God, we earnestly ask You to bless this diocese with many priests, brothers, and sisters who will love You with their whole strength and gladly spend their entire lives to serve Your Church and to make You known and loved. Bless our families, bless our children, choose from our homes those needed for Your work. Mary, Queen of the Clergy, pray for us, pray for our priests, religious, and deacons. Obtain for us many more. Amen.

In both today's first reading and the Gospel, Jesus leaves his disciples with instructions: they are to be his witnesses as they go forth to make disciples of all nations. As we listen to Christ's words today, let us imagine them directed to us, for we are his disciples now.

Question of the Week:

What will I do this week to give witness to Christ in me and my neighbor?

When they had gathered together they asked him, "Lord, are you at this time going to restore the kingdom to Israel?" He answered them, "It is not for you to know the times or seasons that the Father has established by his own authority. But you will receive power when the holy Spirit comes upon you, and you will be my witnesses in Jerusalem, throughout Judea and Samaria, and to the ends of the earth."

When he had said this, as they were looking on, he was lifted up, and a cloud took him from their sight. While they were looking intently at the sky as he was going, suddenly two men dressed in white garments stood beside them. They said, "Men of Galilee, why are you standing there looking at the sky? This Jesus who has been taken up from you into heaven will return in the same way as you have seen him going into heaven." Then they returned to Jerusalem from the mount called Olivet, which is near Jerusalem, a sabbath day's journey away. ~Acts 6:1-12

May 17th: The Ascension of the Lord (or Seventh Sunday of Easter)

The Name Above All Names

Readings: Acts 1:1-11; Eph 1:17-23; Matt 28:16-20 (or Acts 1:12-14; 1 Pet 4:13-16; John 17:1-11a)

Scripture: [God seated him] at his right hand in the heavens, far above every principality, authority, power, and dominion, and every name that is named. (Eph 1:20-21)

Reflection: The risen Lord is visibly and tangibly ascendant in the narrative we celebrate this week. But that's not all that goes up. Our reading from Ephesians is clear that the authority of Christ also soars beyond the atmospheric to become the highest power of all. As the Apostles' Creed professes, Christ descended into hell-taking the lowest place there is—only to ascend into heaven, enthroned at God's right hand. No matter how much money you accumulate, what title you attain, or how much clout you wield, as rapper MC Hammer once confidently avowed, "U Can't Touch This." So why do we remain unconvinced? Why do so many of us believers live as if Christ's cosmic authority is up for debate?

Chicago poet Eunice Tietjens wrote in her powerful work, Plaint of Complexity, "that she feared she'd bowed at too many altars and lit too many fires there. Even the most faithful among us must admit, to our shame, that we have too. To be sure, we bow to Christ. And also to our own best interests. We offer up some time in prayer. And many more hours to entertainment. We seek wisdom and instruction.

Yet we spend more energy pouring over consumer ads and news reports, or wandering the malls coveting everything in sight. We believe what the church teaches. And may hold our own opinions even more ardently.

The altars before which we often choose to bow are multiple and varied. The gods behind them can be petty, unworthy, and even cruel. Jesus descends into hell to bring lost souls to freedom. If we reach up urgently enough even now, there's still time for us to grasp his hand and rise with him.

Meditation: Listing our smaller gods is remarkably easy to do: time, privacy, financial security, personal ambition, individual freedoms, our bellies, our comfort zones, our opinions. Feel free to add to this list. If Christ is the name above all names and the authority greater than every principality and dominion, how does that affect all the side altars we routinely visit?

Prayer: Lord of all, to call you my Lord means renouncing all other claims and possessions as having control over me. Can I do this? With you, all things are possible.
